

For generations, Utahns have been hooked on fishing and hunting.

We need Congressman Matheson to stand with sportsmen and safeguard Utah's natural resources.

Every time we fish in the Strawberry Reservoir or hunt in the Book Cliffs, we see the changes affecting our landscapes and wildlife. Scientists see it too. It's a problem that is only getting worse—and more expensive to fix—which is why we need Congress to act today.

Hunters and anglers across Utah are counting on Congressman Matheson to join with us to support a clean energy plan.

A plan that will build a clean energy future that creates jobs right here in Utah, reduces our dependence on foreign oil and safeguards our natural heritage.

Climate change threatens the places we hunt and fish. But it also threatens the jobs that are part of America's $75 billion hunting and fishing industry. That's why we are asking Congressman Matheson to support the American Clean Energy and Security Act today.
